From the District Commissioner

Welcome to The 59th Harpenden and Wheathampstead District Gang Show

A year ago the Gang Show launched our celebration of Scouting's Centenary and my piece in the programme listed our plans for 2007. Well, we've been and gone and done the lot! Here are the headlines:

- 350, more than a third of us, joined the District Camp at Phasels Wood, on a weekend that included the wettest Sunday on record. Huge fun nonetheless.
- 200 enjoyed a dinner for past and present members.
- 500 ate bacon butties on Harpenden Common and members renewed their promise on a brilliantly sunny dawn of the second century.
- 9 of our Explorers joined 40,000 at the largest ever World Jamboree. Several Gang Show stalwarts were in the entertainments team.
- 18 of the Gang Show cast were also among the 2,000 playing to an audience of 25,000 at LIVE07, a national celebration of Scouting at The O_2 arena - and someone with his back towards you for most of this evening was Deputy Director.
- We have a commemorative tree on the concourse in Harpenden, a bench at Kimpton Memorial Hall and a gate at St Helen's Church, Wheathampstead.
- Our numbers are up 5% but we have hundreds on waiting lists for want of more adults.
- Nearly 1,000 Scouts in the District have been part of an historic year.

Enjoy a special Show in a special District of a special Movement.

Richard Harrington

Sadly, Albert Elliott, former Cub Leader and Group Scout Leader of the 10th Harpenden, and helper with the Cub Gang Show number for very many years, died in June. He never missed a rehearsal – unless Arsenal were playing at home.

Webmaster? Webmaster?!

What on earth is that? Modern technobabble!! Huh!

Sometimes Rod Keen has to ask this himself, and if you ask most webmasters what it is, and what it involves, you will get a variety of answers. But, at its simplest, he organises and monitors the websites for the Gang Show and the District. That makes it sound an easy job, and sometimes it can be, but trying to create pages and news items, often from minimal input and monitor the members can be a time consuming task that needs to happen at short notice.

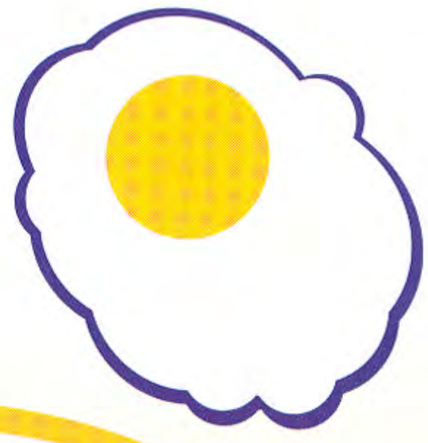

Don't get the wrong idea – he really enjoys creating websites and working with the Gang and District teams, but that is not all he does with the Show. The photographs and projection displays in the foyer and the photo CDs from the pictures taken by Richard Wasbrooke are all part of his job. All of his Gang Show action takes place in a fairly compact time frame, unlike the people at the sharp end like Ewan and Rikki.

Rod Keen started his Scouting career young. In fact it was two days after his 8th birthday that he was first dragged along to Wolf Cubs as it was then - dragged being the word, as his brother was Chil at the 59th South West Herts in Watford and he had little choice but to go along. He soon settled down and progressed through the sections and ranks, including assistant leader, but he never joined the Venture Scouts, something he always regrets. He took part in several local Gang Shows as Cub and Scout, and good memories of this help explain his enthusiasm for the Harpenden Show. After moving to Harpenden and seeing the Gang Show articles in the local papers, it rekindled the feeling for Scouting and, when his sons joined the 3rd Harpenden, it seemed a natural step to offer to help. That "help" lasted for 10 years as Akela of the Apache Pack, and it seems very odd to see some of his Cubs in the Front Row this year. His sons did very well in Scouting and one of them went through the whole Gang Show from the Cubs to the Front Row.

Away from the websites, photographs and his work for Fiat UK, Rod enjoys archery when he gets the time. To relax he likes his scotch, music and training/walking the dog. Rock music is his preference and the list of bands he has seen is quite long including quite a few big names but he did not get to see Led Zepp' at the O_2. Put him in front of a keyboard, though, and he is quite happy to be creative.

The start of a movement

"It is a movement, because it moves forward. As soon as it stops moving, it becomes an Organisation, and is no longer Scouting." B-P.

At the outset the one thing Scouting could not be called was an Organisation, as it was far from organised. B-P was still an active soldier, organising the Territorials in Northumberland, which kept him far from the hub of Scouting in London. The initial rush for membership was handled by Messers C. Arthur Pearson & Co., the publisher of Scouting for Boys and many of the subsequent Scouting publications, and the newly published Scout magazine.

It was soon seen that some break from the publisher would have to be achieved to get the Movement the status it deserved. The Movement slowly evolved, being very democratic at grass-roots level, with Scout Leaders having a fairly free reign with what they did, as long as it was within the ideals of Scouting.

The next year The Scout Association opened its first offices in Victoria Road, finally breaking the strong bonds it had with Pearsons. In 1910 B-P retired from the Army to devote his time, effort and money (all his royalties from Scouting for Boys were ploughed back into the movement) into Scouting. In this year there was the first census of Scouts in the UK, indicating more than 100,000 Scouts in the UK. So, in less than three years, Scouting had a firm footing.

Producer's Notes

In 2008 our Show holds no less magic for me than it did when I first trod the boards in the 23rd Harpenden & Wheathampstead District Gang Show back in 1972.

The expectancy in September, the hard work in October and November, the December feeling of not being ready, the uncertain dress rehearsal and then the 'annual miracle' of show week, where somehow everything comes together. Every year it's the same, and yet every year it's different. This past year was particularly special.

2007 was a great year in Scouting, and our Gang played a full part – several of them attended the World Scout Jamboree, either in the UK contingent or as part of the WSJ Show Cast. What's more, 18 of the Gang you see before you today took part in LIVE07 at The O_2 arena in November, celebrating the very best of Scouting.

After LIVE07, a grandmother of a cast member wrote to me and said that it was "a fantastic reminder that young people are good and hardworking and just a very few taint the reputation of the rest". How true this is. In our District we can be so very proud of the achievements of our young people, whether walking out on the hills, working in the community or performing on stage.

Our finale song asks the question: "Where do we go from here?" As we embark on the next century of Scouting, the answer is very definitely "onwards and upwards!"

Enjoy the show!

Together

Together, when we're all together
We know how lucky we are.
The world around us is everything
The sound of music, the songs we sing-
And even from the coldest winter
The warmest summer arrives.
We'll share together, when we're together
The best years of our lives.

Where do we go from here?

Who knows? The movement is still expanding and moulding itself to the changes in the world. Over the last few years, with the collapse of Communism in Eastern Europe and Asia, the numbers in the movement have expanded in leaps and bounds.

There are 155 countries with internationally recognised National Scout Organisations. There are more than 28 million Scouts, youth and adults, boys and girls in 216 countries and territories.

There are six countries where Scouting, to our knowledge, does not exist; in some it would not be allowed. These are: Andorra, China, Cuba, North Korea, Laos and Myanmar.

All in all it is believed that the total membership over the last 90 years of Scouting (and Guiding) is somewhere in the region of half-a-billion, and that its effects have touched many more.

...and so does the Gang Show!

Are you a budding editorial wizard?

Eager to flex those creative muscles?

The Gang Show is looking for someone to take over the role of Programme Co-ordinator.

AN HOUR TO ACT

AN HOUR TO SING

These Stagecoach students are enthralled in their drama class at their local Stagecoach Theatre Arts School. They are doing more than just enjoying themselves. They are learning to speak clearly, cope with an audience, move easily and naturally, become more poised, confident and self-assured. That's the idea behind Stagecoach. The skills we teach don't vanish when the curtain falls, they help young people perform better in life. Courses are available for boys and girls, aged 4 to 16. Classes run for three hours a week alongside the school term. Our students learn the skills they need to act, sing and dance with a bubbly, likeminded, group of friends. There's no audition; enthusiasm is all they need.
